

Afternoon Tea and Talks with Authors – Save the Dates!

Please join us virtually for a series of THREE afternoon talks to hear three local authors tell us about their latest books! Since we cannot meet to share lunch this year, we invite you to sit down with a cup of tea and your favorite snack for these one-hour Zoom meetings with the authors. Books can be ordered from the websites (listed below) in time for holiday giving.

Lisa Prince Newman

Thursday, January 21, 2021 – 4 to 5 pm

For the Love of Apricots

Mark Greenside

Thursday, March 18, 2021 – 4 to 5 pm.

I'll Never Be French (no matter what I do)

and

(not quite) Mastering the Art of French Living

Website: markgreenside.com

Proceeds from these stimulating talks help support our Local Scholarships, given to women students at West Valley College who are majoring in a STEM field and transferring to a four-year university or college to complete their degree. This year the Local Scholarship Committee will honor Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, the late champion of gender equality whom we all admired so much, by dedicating all scholarships awarded in 2021 to her memory.

Cost: $50 per person (fully tax deductible) for the three talks. Single tickets will not be available. For more information, contact committee chair Arleen Pickett at 408-356-3233 or arleenpickett@gmail.com.

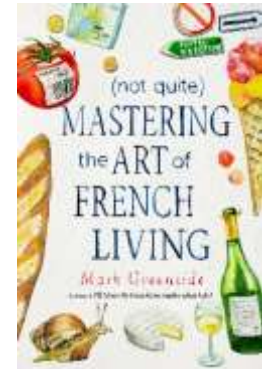

More about Their Books

With beautiful pictures and sumptuous recipes For the Love of Apricots will take you on a nostalgic journey with Lisa Prince Newman, an accomplished home cook and city planner. Short essays sprinkled throughout the cookbook evoke the region's 100-year orchard era and the rapid transformation of the Santa Clara Valley, affectionately known as the Valley of Heart's Delight, into Silicon Valley.

Richard Haiduck is a former life sciences executive and mentor, and now has an active retirement. He is becoming the Voice of Boomer Retirement Stories. He is immersed in challenging the boundaries of his own retirement, while observing the experiences and areas of curiosity of his fellow retirees. Shifting Gears is based on interviews with retirees, telling how they are shifting gears in their retirement. Sometimes they shift smoothly, sometimes they grind the gears, and often they take some time to find their groove. The stories reveal the rich abundance of retirement ventures.

Mark Greenside's life has been filled with a myriad of experiences and journeys, including being a union leader, a community organizer, an activist for civil rights and an anti-Vietnam War marcher. He has taught history and political science at the university level while all along nourishing his desire to write. Then, in recent years he and his wife went to France, the "Old World," where everything was new to him, including himself. The result is these charming, fun books: I'll Never Be French (no matter what I do) and (not quite) Mastering the Art of French Living.
